with What's Left”

Doing Right With What's Left

For I brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out. I Timothy 6:7 (KJV)

Have you given any thought to what will happen with all your "stuff" when you are no longer here? We know that we cannot take our belongings with us when we die, and according to North Carolina law, there are two options. The first is to have a Last Will and Testament (and other estate planning documents) and then the individual gets to choose who gets what. The second option is to not have a Will (or other estate planning documents) and then the laws of the State of North Carolina will determine who gets what. The second option is not good Christian stewardship.

By having a Will, you get to choose if you want to leave anything to your church or other favorite ministry. By having a Will, you get to choose if you want to leave an inheritance outright to your children or if you want to use a trust so that they receive income over their lifetime. Don't give up your right to make these and many other choices. Do what's right with what's left.

I want to Do What's Right with What's Left and request the following:

- "Making Your Will" booklet to help me prepare for having a Christian Will.
- Will language to give my attorney so I may create an endowment for Christian ministries.
- Trust information showing how I can include family and Christian ministry in my estate plan.
- Please call to set up an appointment to discuss my Christian estate planning options.
